

ON-SITE Trailers

Time is money, especially when you're a contractor on a tight deadline. On-site trailers from DSG provide the parts and products you need – where you need them. No matter if you're limited on inventory space or tired of sending productive crew members off-site to get more parts, DSG can save you time and resources.

Here's How DSG On-Site Trailers Work:

NEEDS EXPLORATION

First, we meet with you to briefly discuss the scope of your project and review some of the details for the trailer, such as what products you'll need and where you want it located.

PRODUCT ORDER

Based on the initial meeting, we determine the size of the trailer that will work best for your project and process your initial order. We then stock and organize the trailer, double checking quantities and items to ensure that everything is 100-percent accurate.

TRAILER DELIVERY

Once the trailer is stocked, we deliver it and park it where you choose. A DSG representative will show your team how the products are stocked so you know exactly where everything is. You will be provided with a receiver hitch lock that must be used at all times to keep your product and the trailer secure.

INVENTORY REPLENISHMENT

When you need products restocked in your trailer, simply place an order with us – by phone, online via DSG Connect or by utilizing our Barcode Advantage program – and we'll deliver the new products and fill the trailer for you.

TRAILER PICKUP

When you're finished with the trailer, let us know 48 hours in advance, and we'll retrieve the trailer from your job site.

TIMEFRAME

As long as you partner with DSG to provide the products for your project, you can utilize the trailer for as long as you need.
